The Gift of a Virus

The book "The Gift of a Virus", written and illustrated during the time of COVID 19 portrays the story of little Aadhi who finds out a treasure at his Papa's place during the pandemic. This book is dedicated to all those parents who are trying their best to make their children cope with the unexpected situation caused by the pandemic and take them to things they haven't experienced before.

Hi!! I'm Niveda Suraj

Being a communication designer, I strive to create designs that add value and smiles to the lives of people. I really love telling stories and communicating them visually makes me more elated. For me design is a medium to take up the challenges and to carve the best out of it.
